Rep. Hintz Statement on Republican Budget Meltdown

“The story of Republicans’ complete inability to govern or even prioritize just doesn’t stop getting worse. Instead of preventing the gutting of the budget for needed infrastructure projects, it appears Republicans would rather spend their time putting out dueling press releases pointing fingers and demanding that statements be ‘walked back’. I think that if it were up to most Wisconsinites, this entire budget would be ‘walked back’.

“One of the biggest goals of this budget was supposed to be solving our immediate and long term transportation problems. Instead, we have a stalemate between either using a credit card or delaying critical projects. Unfortunately in this full-on feud between Governor Walker’s presidential ambitions, Tea Party extremists, and talk radio, Wisconsin’s infrastructure and ability to compete economically end up being the final loser.”
