A Budget Made for Wisconsin

The 2023-25 budget crafted by Republicans is made for all of Wisconsin. The Joint Committee on Finance heard from thousands of individuals by email and in person at our four statewide listening sessions. In addition, Assembly Republicans held over 180 local listening sessions to hear directly from their constituents.

Our budget reflects the priorities of Wisconsinites with substantial investments in key programs, while providing the largest tax cut in state history. We demonstrated, once again, that it's possible to fund important priorities—like funding high-quality education for all students, investing in our roads and supporting the accessibility of healthcare—while delivering meaningful tax relief to our residents and businesses.

This budget is for all of Wisconsin, so whether you live in Superior, Kenosha, or anywhere in between, your community and each individual living in it will be better served through improved services and lower taxes.

Reducing Taxes

Republicans approved the largest tax cut in state history—over $4.4 billion—because we believe individuals know how to spend their own money better than the government does. So regardless of whether it's helping offset the inflationary pressures families are facing, going toward reducing debt or buying a stay-cation, we know that when taxpayers keep more of their hard-earned dollars, it is money well-spent.

Income taxes:

Single/Head of Household	Married Joint	Married Separate	Current Law Tax Rate	Republican Proposal
$0 - $13,810	$0 - $18,420	$0 - $9,210	3.54%	3.50%
$13,810 - $27,630	$18,420 - $36,840	$9,210 - $18,420	4.65%	4.40%
$27,630 - $304,170	$36,840 - $405,550	$18,420 - $202,780	5.30%	4.40%
$304,170 +	$405,550 +	$202,780 +	7.65%	6.50%

The Republican plan reduces income taxes by $3.5 billion dollars—averaging $573 per filer each year. This represents an average cut of over 15% and impacts every taxpayer in the state. And while all taxpayers receive a benefit, our plan targets relief to the middle class—collapsing two brackets into one lower bracket. It also takes steps towards making our state tax rates more competitive with our neighbors. By lowering the top bracket by 1.15%, it brings us closer—although still higher—to the top rates of our Midwest neighbors.

Veto update: While Republicans believe Wisconsinites know how to spend their money better than the government, Governor Evers thinks he knows better. With his powerful line-item veto, the Governor eliminated the reductions on the 3rd and 4th bracket – eliminating the cuts to income above $27,630 for single filers and above $36,840 for joint filers.

As a result of this 95% reduction in the income tax cut, filers will see an average tax reduction of $36 dollars—compared to $573 under the Republican plan. In total, the income tax cut goes from $3.5 billion under the Republican plan to a mere $175 million under the enacted budget. It also means that, even without any revenue growth, the surplus at the beginning of the next biennium will be over four billion dollars. Republicans will work in the coming months to send more money back to the hardworking taxpayers of Wisconsin.

Property taxes:

Our plan will also reduce property taxes below what Governor Evers proposed in each year of the biennium. When Republicans decided to provide a historic investment in our K-12 schools, we didn't want it to be on the backs of local property taxpayers, which is why we're spending over $600 million for reducing the property tax burden in our state.

Veto update: Governor Evers left the property tax reductions passed by Republicans in place for the current biennium, but with the use of his line-item veto, he raised property taxing authority by local school boards for the next four hundred years. Just in the next biennium, this has the potential to raise taxes by over $807 million statewide—equating to a property tax increase on the median valued home of $174 over the biennium. This irresponsible veto creates significant uncertainty and opens the possibility of billions of dollars in property tax hikes.

Business taxes:

One of the most onerous taxes in Wisconsin is the personal property tax, paid by businesses in our state. This administratively burdensome tax harms our local businesses most and stifles their growth. Our budget, in combination with Act 12 (the shared revenue bill) will eliminate the personal property tax, while holding local governments harmless. This is a win for our Main Streets, small businesses throughout the state, and local governments.

In addition, our budget provides targeted tax relief for businesses in our state through programs that benefit the entire community. It invests in the Research and Development credit, which brings family supporting jobs to our state; a new program to help small businesses and agricultural producers receive more competitive loans through their local banks; and increases the discount for partner businesses that collect sales tax on behalf of the state.

Smaller, More Efficient Government

Governor Evers proposed a massive increase in state spending and over 800 new government positions. His budget would have spent over 22% more general purpose revenue on the backs of hardworking taxpayers through a two billion dollar tax hike on individuals and businesses. These new taxes would have gone to expanding welfare, creating countless new government programs and increasing regulation on our residents and businesses.

The contrast between Governor Evers' recommended budget and the Republican-crafted budget couldn't be clearer. Our budget decreases government bureaucracy by eliminating 793.75 positions compared to base—1,610.10 fewer than what Governor Evers recommended. Our budget increases spending by nearly seven billion dollars less than the executive budget and right-sizes countless operations budgets to constrain agency bloat.

In addition, we budgeted smarter through funding our priorities while bonding less. Our budget bonds over $165M dollars less than Governor Evers and pays off $400 million in existing debt—saving money for future generations.

When it comes to strong fiscal management, it couldn't be more evident that Legislative Republicans are more responsible stewards of taxpayer resources through reducing the financial burden on future generations and sending more money back to taxpayers, while making targeted investments in key priorities.

Veto update: Governor Evers proved again in his vetoes that he supports bloating the size of government and putting it on the backs of taxpayers. His vetoes undo the elimination of government positions in several agencies, including the UW System, the Dept. of Natural Resources and the Board for the Commissioner of Public Lands. And while Republicans wanted to send billions back to hardworking taxpayers, Governor Evers vetoed tax cuts so that money stays in Madison instead of going back to the people of our state.

Investing In Our Kids

One of the key priorities of Legislative Republicans is making strong investments to support our kids. Our budget makes historic investments in K12 education, with over one billion dollars going to classrooms throughout our state. We've provided both flexible funding for school districts to use for their unique needs and targeted aid for mental health and literacy initiatives—key areas that we know students are struggling.

We also direct federal resources to support families in our state through child care initiatives and child welfare supports. Our budget takes a multi-pronged approach to supporting child care by providing financial assistance to those that need it most; funding initiatives to increase child care capacity and doubling existing funding for provider recruitment and retention. Meanwhile, we increase support for families that provide a loving home to children who can't safely stay in their own.

Republicans also know that we have reliable community partners that provide important services to strengthen kids and families in our state. This includes organizations like Children's Wisconsin, the Boys and Girls Club of Wisconsin and family resource centers, all of which we are bolstering our partnerships with through this budget.

Veto update: While Governor Evers left much of this budget for kids and families intact, his vetoes allowed massive tax increases on our children, grandchildren, great grandchildren—and beyond with his four hundred year property tax hike. Done in the name of supporting schools, this veto provides little certainty for schools while hurting the economic wellbeing of families in our state.

In addition, Republicans prioritized funding for increasing child care capacity in our state through a revolving loan fund to help child care providers become licensed and increase capacity. Instead, Governor Evers vetoed this to a 'child care fund' which could go to subsidizing existing providers without any promise of increasing capacity or making care more affordable. Fortunately, use of these funds will still need to go through the JFC approval process.

Strengthening Our Workforce

Wisconsin's unemployment rate is back to historic lows, yet our labor force participation rate remains below pre-pandemic levels. Employers throughout the state have help wanted signs and, despite raising wages, are struggling to compete in a tight labor market. Republicans recognize these as serious challenges to our state's businesses and economic prosperity. Our budget reflects the need to address workforce challenges through supporting talent attraction and retention initiatives; investing in workforce housing; and increasing funding for key partners in our state that train our current and future workforce.

Republicans know that our workforce challenges won't be solved without bringing new talent into our state. That's why we directed the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) to spend at least four million dollars on talent attraction and recruitment initiatives. These funds are intended to market our state as the great place to live, work and raise a family that all of us living here know it is.

But part of attracting people to live and work in Wisconsin is ensuring they have adequate housing. Our budget invests over half a billion dollars to support the development of next generation housing. The housing shortage in our state is particularly impacting young families, seniors or those looking for a first-time home. The programs we are supporting will help build new housing, convert existing commercial buildings into livable space, and improve the quality of existing housing stock, so that regardless of whether an individual is looking to relocate here or stay in their existing home, our budget ensures there are options that are affordable.

Our budget will also invest in proven programs that develop our current and future workforce, including supporting our technical college system, new funding for the youth apprenticeship program and increasing support for career and technical education grants. These programs are key drivers of workforce growth and investments in them support the expansion of our labor force.

Veto update: Republicans know that workforce development requires a multi-pronged approach, which includes attracting and retaining talent to our state. Governor Evers vetoed an important component of this that requires WEDC to spend $4 million on talent attraction. This unfortunate veto is counterproductive to our state's effort to bring new hardworking individuals into Wisconsin.

Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

The agriculture industry contributes over $100 billion to Wisconsin's economy and provides nearly half a million jobs for our residents. Republicans made critical investments in our agriculture industry to fund proven programs that support our farmers and agricultural producers throughout the state.

Our budget increases funding for the meat and dairy processor grants to help these key industries increase capacity and improve operations. The funding provided in the Republican budget would double money available for the dairy processor grants and quadruple funds for the meat processor grant program.

We also approved two million dollars more for the agriculture exports program. Wisconsin is a top producer of numerous products, including cheese, cranberries, and ginseng, among others. This export program, started in the 2021-23 budget, aims to increase exports from our state to share more of the valuable products Wisconsin produces.

Republicans also recognize the challenges facing farmers related to mental health—a group that faces higher rates of suicide than the general population. That’s why Republicans are extending funding for the Farmer Wellness Program, which provides a variety of mental health services for farmers and their families.

Farmers are some of the best stewards of our natural resources. Our budget provides funding for several programs that partner with farmers to build on sustainable practices that benefit farmers, consumers and our natural resources, including county conservation staff, the nitrogen optimization pilot program and producer-led watershed protection grants.

Summary of agency action:

- $1.8M for equipment and supplies for the DATCP Bureau of Laboratory Services
- $150,000 for IT services departmentwide
- $3M for the tribal food box program
- $1.6M for meat processor grants

SUPPORTING THE AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY

Supporting the expansion and promotion of agricultural exports from Wisconsin

Doubling funding to expand meat and dairy processor capacity and production

Increasing funding to meet demand for producer-led conservation grants

Budget Management and Compensation Reserves

To address inflationary pressures and rising private sector wages, our budget invests heavily in the state’s workforce so we can remain a competitive employer. Republicans are providing a 4% increase in July 2023 and another 2% in July 2024 for nearly all state employees. Those not included are addressed elsewhere in the budget, such as those on separate pay progression plans or elected officials who become eligible for raises at the start of a new term. These raises will help our state facilities, such as DMVs, state healthcare facilities, and correctional systems, remain staffed to provide the core services Wisconsinites expect.

We also targeted raises in key areas that are facing significant shortages. Our budget invests massively in state correctional employees, which face abnormally high vacancy rates – over 30% vacancy statewide and over 50% in certain facilities. $344M will go towards raising the base pay for correctional security positions and continuing add-ons for high-vacancy facilities and maximum security institutions, along with creating a medium security add-on. These funds demonstrate our appreciation for correctional employees and aim to reduce the staffing shortage straining these workers.

Our budget also provides funding for other key areas that have faced employee shortages, such as IT workers, DSPS credentialing staff, and respiratory therapists employed by the Department of Health Services. These areas have demonstrated severe staffing shortages and Republicans are investing to help recruit and retain workers and keep state pay competitive.

Summary of agency action:

- $221.1M for a general wage adjustment of 4% in FY24 and 2% in FY25 for state employees
- $291.6M to increase starting wages for correctional security staff at DOC and DHS facilities from $20.29 per hour to $33 per hour
- $52.3M to continue and expand pay add-ons at DOC facilities
- $545,200 to extend the retention incentive program for long term DOC and DHS correctional security employees by one year
- $5.8M to fund pay progression for probation and parole employees of DOC
- $255,600 to modify pay progression for DNR Wardens and State Capitol Police
- $4M for market wage and parity adjustments
- $1.2M annually for market adjustments for state IT employees
- $16.9M to continue pay add-on pilots to address recruitment and retention issues

Capital Budget

Republicans are making responsible use of one-time funds through our historic capital budget, which invests in new building projects throughout the state and provides for key maintenance on state buildings and properties, to help extend the life of these facilities. Our capital budget approved $2.4 billion (all funds) that, in combination with investments in other areas of the budget, fund specific infrastructure projects in over 75% of counties in our state.

A full list of projects can be found in Motion #87.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed program requirements associated with the local projects fund. These requirement were intended to ensure the locals had adequate stakeholder interest, along with making sure the funding is available for a variety of projects. These projects will still need approval by the State Building Commission.

The Governor also vetoed square footage provisions pertaining to a new Type 1 Juvenile Correctional Facility and the National Guard Challenge Academy.

Finally, the Governor vetoed requirements that DOA work with the Legislature on developing plans for State Capitol Fiber and Cable Upgrades. His veto maintains funding for the project.

The Republican budget invests in kids and families in our state, providing targeted financial assistance to help strengthen families and support our most vulnerable kids. Our budget makes careful use of federal resources available to support key initiatives for our families.

Our budget spends a total of $93 million on child care—taking a multi-pronged, targeted approach to helping families afford child care, build provider capacity and support recruitment of child care professionals. We increased eligibility for the WI Shares program to 200% of the federal poverty limit ($49,720 for a family of three) and smoothed the benefit cliff by reducing copays over 200% to $1 for every $5 earned, rather than the current structure of $1 to every $3 earned. This helps working parents scale up in the workforce, making it easier for them to accept more work without entirely losing a benefit.

We also provided $15 million for a revolving loan fund to help providers become licensed and/or expand capacity. This fund is intended to break down barriers for providers to comply with licensing requirements or do improvements to their facility to accept more kids. Meanwhile, our plan seeks to address the workforce challenges facing the industry by investing in the long-standing REWARD program which funds stipends based on education and longevity in the field.

The Republican budget also invests in our most vulnerable kids. We increased funding for kinship caregivers by 25% and increased funding for basic and treatment foster care rates by 5%, to help offset rising costs for families that provide care to children who can't safely stay in their own home. Our budget will also fund key training initiatives for qualified residential treatment program staff—a new residential care type for children in the child welfare system with high needs that is required under recent federal legislation.

And to help strengthen families and children, we funded community programming designed to support parents and kids. This includes parent training and resources through the Positive Parenting Program; academic and employment training through the Boys and Girls Club of Wisconsin and Jobs for America's Graduates; and the Imagination Library, which provides books to kids regardless of income.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed language associated with the child care revolving loan fund, making it the “child care fund”. This would allow the funds to be used as general subsidies to child care programs, however, the program details must still be approved by the Joint Committee on Finance to be released from the supplemental account.

The Governor also vetoed language that provided funding for the REWARD program. Under his veto, the funding will be able to be used for the REWARD program or TEACH program, which provides scholarships to child care teachers for advancing their education.

Summary of agency action:

- $1.94M for continuing WI Shares at a max reimbursement rate equal to 85% of all child care slots in any given county
- $27M for increasing eligibility for Wisconsin Shares up to 200% of the federal poverty limit and smoothing the benefit cliff, so that copays go up by one dollar for every five dollars earned, instead of one dollar for every three dollars earned

- $875,000 for increasing tribal child care contracts to administer child care certification activities
- $30M for support the resumption of YoungStar bonus payments
- $2.5M for the Wisconsin Shared Services Network
- $1.7M for provider education in managing challenging behaviors
- $1.4M annually for child care resource and referral centers
- $5M annually for REWARD stipends
- $15M for a revolving loan fund for child care provider capacity expansion
- $5M for the Boys and Girls Club of Wisconsin
- $1M for Jobs for America's Graduates Program
- $1M for the Skills Enhancement Program

- $1M for Family Resource Centers (under Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board)
- $3M for Triple – Positive Parenting Program (part under DCF, part under CANPB)

Corrections

Correctional facilities throughout our state are facing a dire shortage of workers, while the inmate population continues to rise. One in three security positions is vacant, with higher vacancies at certain facilities. This has created, at times, difficult or dangerous situations for both correctional staff and inmates. Our budget seeks to address these concerns by investing in our correctional facilities and staff, which occurs in budget management and compensation reserves, capital budget and the Department of Corrections.

Our budget recognizes the complex challenges of our growing inmate population. Often, those in our state's correctional facilities have substance use disorders (SUDs) and/or lack employment skills that are important for reintegration in society. The Republican budget provides nearly five million dollars in new funding for medication assisted treatment (MAT) for inmates pre- and post- release to help their recovery from SUDs. It also allocates nearly one million dollars for technical mobiles labs to help inmates gain employment skills to reduce re-conviction.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed a provision requiring $2.27M to be used for the expansion of the original Opening Avenues to Reentry Success (OARS) program, thereby allowing the funds to be used for the OARS and OARS2 pilot program.

He also eliminated statutory reference to a pending statute on Community Reentry Centers, which has been introduced by the Legislative Study Committee on Increasing Offender Employment Opportunities, effectively eliminating the ability to fund these centers without a separate appropriations bill.

Summary of agency action:

- $30.6M for overtime costs
- $34.3M for costs associated with higher inmate populations and inflationary costs
- $15M for contract beds
- Realign 110 position to the Department of Health Services to better reflect their role
- $4.68M for medication assisted treatment

- 4 FTE for supervising officer positions at Robert E. Ellsworth Correctional Center
- Convert 5 LTE pharmacy technician positions into 5 FTE
- $85,300 for non-personnel costs related to the health services unit at Wisconsin Secure Program Facility
- $2.27M for the Opening Avenues to Reentry Success program
- $889,800 for services relating to GPS tracking of sex offenders
- Establishing a daily rate of $1,246 in FY24 and $1,268 in FY25 for incarcerated juvenile offenders
- $7.6M for juvenile correction costs associated with serious juvenile offenders
- $222,500 for population-related funding needs, like health costs, food costs, etc.
- $4M for re-entry centers

District Attorneys, State Public Defenders and Courts

Republicans recognize the severe staffing challenges facing our criminal justice system and the negative impact it has on public safety and the constitutional rights of victims and defendants. Our budget invests in raising wages for assistant district attorneys (ADAs), deputy district attorneys (DDAs), assistant state public defenders (ASPDs) and elected district attorneys (DAs) to keep these positions competitive with pay for private attorneys.

We provided $36.7 million to increase wages for all ADAs, DDAs, and ASPDs, along with raising the starting wage, by $8.76 per hour. These funds will help district attorney and public defender offices throughout Wisconsin to recruit and retain attorneys in our state. We also provided funding above the maximum salary cap, so that valued senior attorneys receive the same increase as others working in these offices.

Republicans also recognize wage disparities between certain ADA/DDA positions and elected DAs, which may have been exacerbated without an increase to elected DA pay. Our budget addresses this, by increasing wages for elected DAs throughout the state by an amount equal to the increase for ADAs/DDAs ($8.76 per hour) at the start of their next term.

These wage increases are expected to help staffing throughout our state, but the committee recognized there will still be a need for private bar attorneys to fill gaps when state public defenders are unavailable due to conflicts of interest or high caseloads. Our budget will better compensate private bar attorneys by increasing the rate for these cases to $100 per hour and travel to $50 per hour.

Our budget also meets our obligations under 2019 Act 184, which created 12 new circuit court branches over a three-year period. With the creation and funding of resources for courts in Clark, Manitowoc, Sawyer and Wood Counties, we have fulfilled our promises under Act 184.

Altogether, these investments will help our criminal justice system operate more efficiently, reduce the backlog of cases that exists and better protect the rights of people in our state.

Summary of agency action:

- $36.75M for increasing wages for DDAs, ADAs and ASPDs
- $926,200 for increasing wages of elected DAs
- $487,300 and 4.4 FTEs for new prosecutor positions in certain counties
- $1.4M for supporting supplies and service costs of DA offices
- $17.6M for increasing the private bar rate to $100 per hour and $50 per hour for travel
- Extending the CHIPS Pilot Program for two years
- 8 FTEs and $3.3M for fully funding the positions and resources required for the circuit court branches
- $3.9M for cybersecurity initiatives of the Wisconsin Supreme Court

Health Services

Our budget continues the years-long commitment Republicans have to making health care more accessible and affordable in our state by providing over three billion dollars to support our healthcare industry.

Republicans are making significant investments in our healthcare industry through raising Medicaid (MA) reimbursement rates across several health services including hospital base payments, primary care rates, emergency department physicians, chiropractors, and behavioral health in general medical hospitals. These rate increases, combined with supplemental aids for disproportionate share hospitals and rural critical care hospitals, will help keep costs down for providers and patients.

We also invested heavily in the long-term care industry. Last budget, we funded a $440M increase for this industry and this budget we've invested even more with a total spend of $492M. Our budget provides key support like continuing the 5% home and community based services rate increase; needed funds for direct care services and personal care workers; and higher reimbursement and incentives for our nursing homes.

As we've done in the past, we are also providing increases for several of our community partners that supplement the health care system, such as Aging and Disability Resource Centers, the Alzheimer's Family and Caregiver Support program and free and charitable clinics. These key organizations have a critical supporting role in making sure our residents, regardless of condition or income, are well-served in their health care needs.

Our budget will also provide targeted support for mental health care access through the Medical College of Wisconsin's (MCW) psychiatry residency program. 55 of 72 counties in our state have a significant shortage of psychiatrists and nearly a third of counties have none. With adults and youth reporting higher levels of mental illness, these investments will help ensure the growing mental health needs of our state are met through supporting ten new residents, located in central and northeastern Wisconsin.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed the prohibition on Medicaid covering puberty-blocking drugs and gender surgeries, meaning taxpayer resources can continue being used for these activities.

The Governor also vetoed a requirement that DHS collect and make available financial summaries of managed care organizations, as they pertain to state-run programs, such as Family Care. The reports, intended to create more transparency, will not be required.

Governor Evers vetoed fee increases for the newborn screening program, increasing the fee by about $35 more than intended by the Legislature.

He vetoed the reporting requirement on the Medical College of Wisconsin's psychiatry residency program that will be receiving $7M in state funds through this budget. This is consistent with other actions by this Governor to prevent transparency of state programming and agencies.

Summary of agency action:

- $7M for supporting the psychiatry and behavioral health residency program at MCW
- $68M to increase base MA rates for hospitals
- $132M for increasing primary care provider rates
- $15.4M to raise emergency department physician rates
- $1.8M for rate parity for chiropractors
- $30.5M for increasing rates for hospital services provided in behavioral health units for general medical and surgical hospitals
- Add a deadline of Oct. 1, 2023 for DHS to implement the dental services reimbursement rate increase included in the 2017 budget for dental services provided to patients with cognitive and physical disabilities

- $1M for fraud prevention and investigation
- $12.4M for FSET program
- Prohibits use of MA for gender reassignment surgery and puberty blocking medication
- Delete 33.48 vacant positions

Supporting our law enforcement officers is a long-standing priority for Republicans. Our budget invests in programs that help our law enforcement keep our communities safe, like the Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) task force, Elder Abuse Hotline and Elder Justice Program, treatment and diversion programs, and critical incident mapping. We also supported the continued operations of the State's Crime Lab by increasing toxicologist positions, which processes evidence on behalf of law enforcement agencies throughout the state. These key investments will support the work of our law enforcement statewide, by making sure they have additional support and resources to protect our residents.

Veto update: The Governor vetoed the elimination of an appropriation associated with law enforcement overtime grants, which was last funded in 2017. As a result, the account's negligible balance will remain unusable.

Summary of agency action:

- $251,100 to fund 1.5 positions for the ICAC task force
- $250,000 for ICAC local assistance
- 1 FTE designated for providing training and resources to prosecutors on sexual assault cases
- $135,000 for continuing the Elder Abuse Hotline and grants for protection of elders
- $1M for Treatment and Diversion programs
- $123,600 and 3 FTE for toxicology positions at the State Crime Lab
- $3.4M to increase reimbursement to county victim witness offices to fund 60% of county costs
- Extend the COP Houses program and associated funding through the 2023-25 biennium
- $2.5M for critical incident mapping
- Remove 1.2 positions that have been vacant for 18 months or more

Note: Our budget continued funding for the Office of School Safety with the same level of state funding and positions that has supported the office since its creation ($1.3M and 3.8FTE). We did not approve the increase of funding and positions requested by the Attorney General to continue positions created by federal funds.*

Military Affairs

Preparing for and responding to major natural and manmade disasters is one of the core functions of state government. Republicans have made significant investments in our local first responders in shared revenue and elsewhere, but the Department of Military Affairs also plays an essential role in emergency response throughout the state. Our budget invests in the department and its partners to improve safety statewide. The largest component of that is investing in the replacement of the statewide interoperable radio network, also known as WISCOM. Funding this in the budget will guarantee first responders statewide are able to communicate with each other in the event of a major event and ensure localities that utilize WISCOM for daily use have a viable system into the future.

The Department of Military Affairs also is responsible for the day-to-day management of the Wisconsin National Guard when not activated for federal duty. Our budget recognizes and supports that important duty. Building on the success of bringing the F-35 to Madison, we are investing in securing the next generation of Air Force refueling aircraft for the state. Additionally, our budget will streamline the process Wisconsin National Guard members use when applying for tuition grants.

Summary of agency action:

- $45M to begin the replacement of the statewide interoperable radio network
- $2M for grants to users of the WISCOM network for communications system upgrades
- $1M for training, administration and equipment for the state's urban search and rescue task force
- $1M for the replacement of equipment used in hazardous material responses

- $94,600 to support a secured connection for wireless networks at National Guard armories
- $69,000 for the conservation of monuments related to Wisconsin at Vicksburg National Military Park

Natural Resources

Wisconsin has abundant natural resources that are enjoyed by residents and visitors alike. Our budget provides important investments to protect these natural resources—an investment for generations to come.

Our state is home to over 100 state parks, trails and forests, which see over 20 million visits each year. From scenic waterfalls and lakes to trails for hiking and biking, there's no shortage of activities within our state park system. The Republican budget will invest in critical infrastructure projects at our state parks to make sure the grounds are well-maintained. It also invests so more campsites can become electrified, to meet rising demand for this amenity.

Republicans also recognize the significant challenge presented by PFAS contamination in our state. We set aside $125M in the newly-created PFAS Trust Fund for managing the prevention and mitigation of PFAS contamination in Wisconsin. Legislation to plan for the use of these funds will go through the legislative process, engaging stakeholders and experts on the topic, to ensure the funds make the most meaningful impact for our state.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed funding tied to specified projects including for projects at Les Voight State Fish Hatchery, Brule State Fish Hatchery, Echo Lake Dam, and Pattison and Amnicon Falls State Parks.

He also vetoed language that would provide positions for ATV/UTV law enforcement from within existing position authority.

His veto eliminated the increase of tribal gaming revenue to the conservation fund for supporting conservation activities, many of which support tribal lands.

Summary of agency action:

- $200,000 annually for snowmobile county enforcement aids

- Doubled ATV/UTV project aids from $200 per mile to $400 per mile

- Deleted 43.71 vacant positions and right-sized general operations funds with a $1.8M reduction

Wisconsin Republicans strongly believe all children deserve access to high quality education. Our budget reflects this priority with strong investments in our public schools, along with funding for choice and charter schools. Already the largest GPR spend in the state budget, we are investing another one billion dollars for K12 schools.

Our budget includes a per pupil increase of $325 in each year of the biennium, to ensure schools have real, spendable increases in this budget. This funding goes through the formula, so two-thirds is state funded and the rest could be levied by the local district. We are also making targeted investments in areas that we know students need it most. Our budget will increase funding by nearly $100 million for special education aids, which will support one-third of district costs related to special education. It will also reimburse high-cost special education aid at half of costs by the end of the biennium.

Another critical investment of our K12 budget is in reading initiatives. Testing shows our students are lagging behind in reading proficiency—made noticeably worse as a result of school closures from the COVID-19 pandemic. We set aside $50M to address this problematic trend and get our students back on track.

Student and youth wellbeing has also declined in recent years and our budget invests in supporting the mental health of our kids. We increased funding for the school-based mental health grants by $30M over the biennium and changed the funding to be per pupil based, rather than competitive grants. These funds allow school districts to partner with community organizations to provide mental health services to students right in their schools—reducing barriers to important services.

And, to help support school districts that make thoughtful economic decisions on sharing services, our budget sets aside five million dollars for legislative recommendations created by the Study Committee on Shared School District Services. These bills, which are still working through the legislative process, aim to incentivize and assist districts that decide to consolidate or share services.

As a result of our budget and the actions taken under 2023 Wisconsin Act 11, choice and charter schools will receive a significant bump in state funding—ensuring that parents and families get to choose the best educational environment for them. This core priority of Wisconsin Republicans empowers parents to champion their child's education, rather than being told by the government where their kid must attend school.

Summary of agency action:

- $534.3M increase in general school aids
- Increase the per pupil revenue limit of $325 in each year of the biennium
- Eliminate high poverty aid appropriation, reducing spending by $16,830,000 annually
- $97M increase for special education categorical aid
- $4.6M increase for high cost special education
- $3M in new funding for bilingual-bicultural aid
- $50M for literacy programs
- $5.9M for high cost transportation aid
 - Eliminate $200,000 cap for payments that qualified in previous year but not the current
- Increased transportation aid from $375 to $400 per pupil for students who are bused over 12 miles to and from school
- Increased sparsity aid by $1.26M, fully funding the program
- $14M increase in school library aids to be paid from the segregated common school funds
- $30M increase for school-based mental health services grants
- $5M set aside for incentivizing shared school district services
- $1M for grants to recovery high schools
- $500,000 increase to grants for student robotics leagues
- $750,000 for Lakeland STAR Academy
- Under the statutory indexing formula for choice and charter payments, payments are set to increase by $412 per pupil in 2023-23 and $348 in 2024-25. Increases to each program are as follows:
 - $33.5M for the Milwaukee Private School Choice Program
 - $28.8M for the Racine and Statewide Private School Choice Program
 - $3.3M for the Special Needs Scholarship Program Funding
 - $11.4M for Independent Charter School Program
 - $2.98M for independent charter schools authorized by the Office of Educational Opportunity
- $2M funding reduction for pupil assessment

- $6M increase for public library systems
- $450,000 to Recollection Wisconsin

- Extended the Online Early Learning Program until July of 2027
- Deleted 6.18 GPR, 4.85 FED, and 0.70 PR positions that have been vacant for 18 months or more

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed the per pupil revenue limit adjustment to take place each year from 2023-24 through the year 2425. Without legislative action, this would fall on property taxpayers and could result in billions of new property taxes.

The Governor also vetoed the repeal of high poverty aid, which he proposed in his budget. This maintains the appropriation but eliminates the funding, since he is not able to veto appropriations higher.

Governor Evers vetoed funding for the Lakeland STAR Academy—the state’s autism school. This grant would have supported the operation of Lakeland STAR in serving autistic students and students with diverse learning needs.

Finally, Governor Evers vetoed the extension of the Waterford UPSTART early learning pilot program. This program helps students get kindergarten-ready in the areas of reading, math and science in six schools district.

Over the past year and half, legislators throughout the state have been hearing about challenges that those working in our state—or those wanting to work in our state—have been facing when applying for professional licensure. Significant backlogs at the Department of Safety and Professional Services have prevented individuals from obtaining their state-mandated credentials—hurting their livelihood and hindering their professional growth.

Republicans recognize that these delays were the result of several issues facing the Department—first being the inept leadership of the Secretary at the time, as shown by the turnaround in recent months under new leadership. As part of this new leadership, the agency has prioritized and communicated their needs. Our budget reflects the indication that new leadership has improved the situation, the pending audit of the Department, and the real need for more, targeted positions to help the agency accomplish the work it is required to do.

Taking these factors into consideration, our budget provides six new project positions each for credentialing and call center staff. These areas were identified to have the highest need in the department and to have shown the most improvement with the use of federal funding. The committee made these project positions, so we can evaluate the results of the pending audit by the Legislative Audit Bureau and re-determine the needs going forward.

Our budget will also provide new staff for building plan review. We have heard from the industry that delays at the department are hurting their ability to plan and construct in a timely manner—hurting their and consumers' cost. These new permanent positions will help alleviate the backlog in this division and support the work of the department to provide timely reviews of building plans.

Summary of agency action:

- 6 new four-year project positions for processing professional license applications
- 6 new two-year project positions for customer service call center staffing
- 3 new building plan review positions for reducing construction timelines
- Permanently extended 2 temporary positions for private septic system plan review
- $6.3M for software improvements and other equipment upgrades
- $1.7M to extend the Private On-site Wastewater Treatment System program
- $1.1M for improvements to the electronic Prescription Drug Monitoring Program
- $150,000 to extend the Youth Volunteer Firefighter Training program
- $100,000 to support continuing education for real estate agents
- $100,000 to continue the Military Pathways Grant Program
- $40,000 for rehabilitation and recycling of manufactured homes
- $1M for erosion remediation at De Pere Greenwood Cemetery

Shared Revenue

Republicans have been working for months on a plan to support our local governments with new state funding. The plan, now 2023 Wisconsin Act 12, provides a minimum increase of 20% for communities, along with tying state aid to the sales tax, meaning it will grow over time. And while there is a floor of a 20% increase, many municipalities will see a much larger percentage increase, as we worked to close the gap between those who have historically done well under the shared revenue formula and those that have done poorly.

In addition to this historic increase in shared revenue, our plan creates an Innovation Fund for local governments to use for consolidation of services. This fund, along with reforms required under Act 12, ensure that state taxpayers are receiving better, more efficient service and not funding the same broken system.

The extensive framework for this shared revenue plan was created under Act 12, but the funding must still be included in the budget. Our budget fulfills our promises and obligations under the Act, to ensure communities receive this funding that is critical to their ability to continue providing key services to their residents.

Here is a copy of the aid distribution for counties and municipalities.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed certain provisions associated with the Lac Courte Oreilles aid payments, which intended to make payments to counties impacted by the 2022 federal court decisions pertaining to the 1854 Treaty of La Pointe. The result of these vetoes eliminates the sunset date of the provision (without allocating more funds) and opens the funds to municipalities and counties. He also vetoed related provisions that limited levy limit increases on Town of Sanborn residents as a direct result of the federal court decision.

The Governor vetoed provisions in three shared revenue sections that specified lapses back to the general fund in the case of underutilization. As a result of these vetoes, the funds will remain in the segregated accounts.

Transportation

Republicans are making critical investments in our state's transportation infrastructure to make sure residents and visitors in our state can get to school, work, the grocery store, and travel destinations. Our budget will increase funding by 1.5 billion for transportation, including local roads and bridges, state highways, rail, airports, etc.

We are investing in the state highway rehabilitation program by $10 million more and local road aids by $130 million more than Governor Evers proposed, while bonding $88 million less – saving taxpayer dollars and reducing the burden on future generations. We also matched the Governor in the state's major highway and megaprojects programs.

We've heard from our local governments about the need for additional support to maintain local roads. Our budget increases funding for local roads by $285 million, through general transportation aids, the local road improvement program (LRIP), the LRIP – supplemental program, and a new agricultural road improvement program (ARIP). This new program will target funding to agricultural roads, so these roads can be repaired to continue serving our agriculture industry.

The Republican motion also invests in transportation infrastructure such as bridges, harbors, airports, rail, and transit. We know these modes of transportation are critically important to moving goods and people throughout our state, and our investments will help bolster this important infrastructure.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed the increase in mileage aid payments. In effect, this veto retains funding for the general transportation aid (GTA) increase, without providing an increase in the formula that towns and small municipalities rely on. As a result, counties and larger municipalities will see sizeable GTA increases, while towns and small municipalities do not receive a meaningful increase.

The Governor also denied the State Supreme Court use of the Dignitary Protection Unit of the State Patrol.

He vetoed a cost-benefit analysis of the freight rail preservation program and reporting requirement to the Joint Committee on Finance. This is consistent with the Governor's previous action to remove and avoid legislative oversight on state agencies.

The Governor vetoed a partial position for the Mississippi River Parkway Commission to provide administrative support for the commission.

Governor Evers also vetoed a fee for identification stickers on electric vehicles—a provision he proposed in his own budget.

Tourism

Tourism is a major economic driver in the State of Wisconsin, contributing over $23 billion in economic impact. From hotels and restaurants, to entertainment venues and outdoor recreation, this industry provides numerous jobs and brings countless visitors to see why our state is such a great place to live, work and raise a family.

Republicans made major investments in the tourism industry through our state budget. We provided $20 million in one-time funding to help the Department of Tourism build out their marketing, allowing us to market more in existing advertising markets and expand to new markets. In addition, our investments will increase base funding for the Tourism marketing appropriation by 7.5%. These funds will build on our past successful marketing strategies and reach even more people with information about why our state is one worth visiting.

Our budget will also support key industry partners through the continuation of the Office of Outdoor Recreation. Wisconsin has abundant natural areas that are enjoyed by tourists, like the endless kayaking opportunities on our state's lakes and rivers; snowmobiling, skiing and snowshoeing trailing across Wisconsin; and countless miles of hiking and biking trails. With the investment of Republicans, this office will continue connecting businesses within the outdoor recreation industry and connecting visitors to the many outdoor opportunities our state has to offer.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed the requirement for $10M to be granted to Visit Milwaukee, instead making the requirement $1M and retaining the other $9M in the tourism marketing appropriation.

Summary of agency action:

- $20M one-time in a continuing appropriation for tourism marketing
- $1M annually for tourism marketing, built into base
- $10M one-time in the JFC Supplemental for the Opportunity Attraction and Promotion Fund
- $2M for Discover Green Bay
- $10M for Visit Milwaukee
- Realign one position from PR to GPR to better reflect the position utilization
- $527,200 and 3 LTE for continuing the Office of Outdoor Recreation for two years
- $666,300 over the biennium for matching federal grant funding available through the Arts Board

University of Wisconsin System

The Republican budget pushes the UW System to refocus their priorities on developing and supporting our workforce, rather than perpetuating divisive ideology. Our budget cuts diversity, equity and inclusion positions system-wide, along with associated funding. At the same time, we set aside the same amount of funding, $32M over the biennium, in the JFC supplemental account for the UW System to come back with a plan for utilizing these taxpayer resources for workforce initiatives. The UW System should already be prioritizing training our workforce, the action taken in this budget simply redirects the funds being used on DEI for these purposes.

Veto update: Governor Evers vetoed the reduction in position authority associated with the removal of DEI positions. The effect of this veto is 188 positions remain intact but the associated $32M is still removed from the budget. The system will need to utilize other resources if they would like to continue the positions.

The Governor also vetoed the allocation of $3.35M to assist the transition of UW- Washington County to Moraine Park Technical College, therefore, funding to support this transition will not be available.

Summary of agency action:

- Cut 188 DEI positions and $32M
- Set aside $32M for workforce initiatives
- Provide $3.35M for transitioning UW-Washington County to Moraine Park Technical College
- Cut 142 vacant positions system wide

Veterans Affairs

Wisconsin is a great place for veterans to retire from their military service, with numerous benefits and resources available in our state for veterans. Our motion provided a 25% increase in state funding for county and tribal veteran service offices, which help connect service members with resources that are available to them, such as housing, health care, employment services, etc.

Our budget also recognizes the seriousness of the challenges facing our state-owned veterans homes that care for veterans and surviving spouses. These facilities have experienced challenges in recent years with declining enrollment, staffing shortages and mismanagement by the Evers administration.

Republicans value our service members and are taking steps to better identify and fix these challenges. Our budget requires the Department of Veterans Affairs to conduct a study of King Veterans Home, which has faced the steepest decline in enrollment, resulting in major financial challenges. We also set aside $5M for addressing the financial challenges facing our veterans home, while encouraging the department to improve operations to ensure solvency of these facilities.

Our motion further supports veterans homes by ensuring the local fire and EMS districts that serve them have the resources needed to serve both the facility and the surrounding community. Our motion doubles grant funding for fire and EMS departments serving veterans homes in the state.

Veto update: Governor Evers partially vetoed the study requirement on King Veterans Home to have the study look at all veterans homes in the state.

He also vetoed funding for promoting the U.S.S. Wisconsin Columbia-class submarine.

Summary of agency action:

- $5M set aside for DVA to request, as needed, for operation of state veterans homes
- Require DVA to conduct a study of King Veterans Home

- $16,540 grant to promote and support recognition of the Columbia-class submarine U.S.S. Wisconsin

Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority

Wisconsin is facing a shortage of housing stock, which particularly impacts groups like seniors and first-time homebuyers. The Republican budget invests in workforce housing to increase the supply of housing, restore existing housing stock to make it more desirable and convert commercial and Main Street infrastructure to livable space. Our budget funds the initiatives that were signed into law through Acts 14-18.

Veto update: Governor Evers partially vetoed the funds for workforce housing rehabilitation revolving loans, to make the funds available for grants or forgivable loans.

Summary of agency action:

- $275M for the new residential housing infrastructure revolving loan fund
- $100M for the new Main Street housing rehabilitation revolving loan fund
- $100M for the new commercial-to-housing conversion revolving loan fund
- $50M for the workforce housing rehabilitation loan program
- Increased the capital reserve fund limit from $800 million to $1 billion

Wisconsin Technical Colleges are important partners in developing our state's workforce. 93% of tech school graduates are employed within six months of graduation and many of them remain in Wisconsin to work in their field. Our budget recognizes the value of these educational partners by providing new funding for the WTCS in general aids, workforce training grants to help existing employees increase their skills and funds for educational resources.

Summary of agency action:

- $9.4M for general aids to technical colleges
- $2M for workforce advancement training grants
- $3M for open educational resources
- $20M for oral healthcare workforce initiatives

Workforce Development

Strengthening our workforce is an important priority for Republicans. While our unemployment rate remains at historic lows, the workforce participation rate has persistently lagged. Meanwhile, employers throughout Wisconsin are searching for qualified individuals to join their teams. Our budget makes investments to support our current and future workforce.

We invest in proven programs that are aimed at getting people into key fields with high-demand, such as youth apprenticeship and the career and technical education program. Our budget also recognizes the strain that has been put on our economy recently due to restricted production and movement of goods, such as lower access to goods and increased costs, which is why we're creating a program to support a CDL training, to encourage more individuals to join the field.

In combination with investments in other agencies, our workforce development budget will strengthen our workforce to help grow our economy, increase family-supporting jobs and fuel the prosperity of our business community.

Summary of agency action:

- $7M for youth apprenticeship, transferring $1M from Fast Forward to support these costs
- $3M for career and technical education incentive grants
- $500,000 for commercial driver license training grants
- 1 FTE for administration and enforcement of a substance abuse prevention program
- Delete 29.2 vacant positions that have been vacant for 18 months or more

Almost as important as what Republicans did include in our budget, is what's not included. Our budget didn't include many items proposed by Governor Evers, including the countless new government programs he introduced; a massive expansion of welfare and elimination of key safety net program safeguards; huge increases in government positions; new regulations on individuals and businesses; and massive tax hikes on hardworking taxpayers. Here are a few highlights of proposals Governor Evers introduced that Republicans did not include in our budget:

- Over 800 new government employees
- Two billion dollars in tax hikes
- Repealing Act 10, prevailing wage and other conservative reforms of the past decade
- New benefits for undocumented immigrants, like in-state tuition benefits and driver licenses
- Expanding Medicaid and other welfare benefits, while eliminating drug testing and work requirements
- Loosening voting requirements
- New gun control laws
- Legalizing marijuana
- Creation of a new agency dedicated to diversity, equity and inclusion
- New regulatory schemes on businesses
- Creation of new taxing authorities
