Rep. Edming Makes K-12 Education Top Priority

Madison – State Representative James W. Edming (R-Glen Flora) issued the following statement pertaining to his budget priorities after a non-partisan Legislative Fiscal Bureau memo stated that revenue projects for the biennial budget are on track.

“Wisconsin’s future growth remains at 4-5 percent, which is wonderful to see, especially as many national challenges exist. I believe that our state is in a better position today as a result of wise financial decisions made in the previous two budgets. Wisconsin’s economy has improved, new businesses have opened, and more individuals are working.

“I will continue to work to make this budget the best possible. My constituents and I share in the mentality that investing in our K-12 education system is a top priority. Education is crucial in order to maintain a better trained workforce and create a successful future for our children.

“As the budget process progresses, I will look for additional ways to invest in public education, improve the workforce, and protect taxpayers.”
