Rep. Allen Votes for Worker Freedom

Madison-- State Representative Scott Allen (R-Waukesha) voted for personal freedom in the workplace by approving the right-to-work bill, Senate Bill 44, in the state Assembly. Wisconsin is now one step closer to becoming the 25th right-to-work state in the country.

We have a strong and proud union tradition in Wisconsin. Many unions provide excellent training and support for their members. In a right-to-work Wisconsin, those unions will continue to exist and will continue to offer value-added services to their members. Assuming that this legislation is about killing unions is just simply the wrong assumption.

It's been shown that right-to-work states outperform forced union states in economic growth and personal wage growth. This legislation also will help attract new businesses and good, family-supporting jobs to Wisconsin.

In a statement Rep. Allen says; "One should not have to compromise their values to get or keep a decent job. I'm proud to have voted to protect the interest of the minority and to stand for individual freedom and liberty."
