Response to State of the State Address
Ready to Work Across the Aisle and Focus on Job Creation

MADISON – State Representative Chris Danou (D-Trempealeau) released the following statement regarding tonight’s annual State of the State address:

“After a ten month recess, I’m ready to get back to work for the people of Wisconsin,” Danou said. “The people of Wisconsin have sent us a clear message that they want to see legislators work together to create the jobs needed in communities across our state.

“We have heard plenty of talk when it comes to creating jobs and I hope the next two years bring more action. Governor Walker promised to create 250,000 jobs in Wisconsin during his first term and only 37,000 jobs have been created in so far. Clearly, we have plenty of work to do during the next two years to meet that goal.

“In order to create jobs and get Wisconsin’s economy back on track, we can’t just talk about working together but we must actually do so. After all, actions speak louder than words. I look forward to working with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to truly move Wisconsin forward.
