

HIGHLIGHTS OF LOCAL AND STATE GOVERNMENT IN WISCONSIN

Employment and Earnings — In March 2001, Wisconsin ranked 19th among the states in full-time equivalent (FTE) state and local government employees with 270,772. The State of Wisconsin employed 63,185, while local government employed 207,587.

In March 1999, Wisconsin ranked 16th in average total payroll for state and local government employees with $842,727,186. California ranked first with a payroll of $5,955,014,592 and Vermont ranked 50th with $90,653,258.

Units of Local Government — As of January 1, 2000, Wisconsin had 1,922 general units of local government – 72 counties, 190 cities, 395 villages, 1,265 towns.

Counties varied in 2000 population from Milwaukee at 940,164 to Menominee with 4,562. These two counties were also highest and lowest in 1999 full value property assessments at $36.4 billion and $149.6 million, respectively. As determined by the U.S. Bureau of the Census in 1990, Marathon County is the largest in land area with 1,545 square miles and Ozaukee County the smallest with 232 square miles.

Based on the 2000 census, Wisconsin's city residents totaled 2,994,433 in 2000, a 5.2% increase from the 1990 census; village population was 687,007, a 19.7% increase; and town population was 1,668,306, a 13.3% increase. A total of 73 Wisconsin municipalities had populations of 10,000 or more. The City of Milwaukee, ranked first at 596,974, and the City of Merrill, with 10,146 residents, was smallest in the group.

Administration — Wisconsin cities may adopt a mayor, manager, or commission form of government. Of 190 cities, 10 have a city manager and 180 have a mayor. Currently, no city uses the commission form of government. Villages may use a president or manager form of government. Of 395 villages, only 10 have an appointed manager. Currently, 75 cities and 78 villages employ an administrator in a full-time or combined position.

Each county board is headed by a chairperson chosen by the board. In addition, 9 counties have an elected county executive; 10 have an appointed county administrator; and 53 have an appointed administrative coordinator.

The following tables present selected data. Consult footnoted sources for more detailed information about local and state government.

¹Counties are created by legislative act. Depending on the date, Wisconsin counties were created by the Michigan Territorial Legislature (1818-1836), the Wisconsin Territorial Legislature (1836-1848) or the Wisconsin State Legislature (after 1848). ²Reflects actual market value of all taxable general property, including personal property and real estate, as determined by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue. ³Change from 1990 U.S. Census. ⁴Determined by U.S. Bureau of the Census. ⁵Town of Siren is used as a mailing address for county offices.

Key: A – Appointed without party designation; AC – Administrative Coordinator; CA – County Administrator; CE – County Executive; D – Democrat; I – Independent; R – Republican; ME – Medical Examiner.

Note: All officers are elected countywide with the exception of the county board chairperson, county administrator, administrative coordinator, and medical examiner, who are elected or appointed by the county board. Elected county officers serve 2-year terms, except county executives who serve 4-year terms. Beginning 2003, sheriffs will serve 4-year terms per constitutional amendment ratified 11/3/98.

¹Counties with a population of 500,000 or more are statutorily required to establish the office of county executive. Smaller counties may establish the office of county executive or name a county administrator. In counties without a county executive or county administrator, the county board must designate an elected or appointed official to serve as administrative coordinator.

²Menominee and Shawano Counties have a joint district attorney's office located in Shawano County.

³County boards are allowed to designate any registered land surveyor to perform the duties of the county surveyor. Surveyors are appointed unless party designation is shown.

Source: Data collected from county clerks by Wisconsin Legislative Reference Bureau, November 2000, and governor's appointment notices.

Note: A city is not automatically reclassified based on changes in population. Under Section 62.05 (2), Wisconsin Statutes, to change from one class to another a city must: 1) meet the required population size according to the last federal census; 2) fulfill required governmental changes; and 3) publish a mayoral proclamation.

¹There were 190 cities in Wisconsin as of January 1, 2001.

²One of 75 cities with a city administrator holding a full-time or combined position.

³One of 10 cities with a city manager.

⁴In the 2000 U.S. Census, respondents were allowed to choose more than one race. The column "nonwhite" includes all who chose at least one race other than white.
