December 2006

SALARIES OF STATE ELECTED OFFICIALS Effective January 2007

CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS

Governor	$137,092
Lieutenant Governor	72,394
Secretary of State	65,079
State Treasurer	65,079
Attorney General	133,033
Superintendent of Public Instruction	109,587

The salary of a constitutional officer may not be increased during the incumbent's term of office. All officers, except the superintendent of public instruction, will begin serving 4-year terms in January 2007 that will expire in January 2011. The superintendent's 4-year term expires in July 2009, and the incumbent will continue to receive the salary in effect in July 2005 for the entire term of office. If an incumbent resigns, dies, or is removed, the officer assuming the office through appointment or election (or succession, in the case of the lieutenant governor assuming the office of the governor) will be paid the salary provided in the compensation plan which is in effect at the time he or she takes office.

MEMBERS OF THE 2007-2008 LEGISLATURE $47,413

The salary for legislators serving in the 2007-08 Legislature was increased approximately 4% from the 2005-06 session rate ($45,569). Salaries for legislators and constitutional officers had been unchanged from the 2003-04 to the 2005-06 biennium.

Per Diem. In addition to salary, Section 13.123 (1), Wisconsin Statutes, and legislative Joint Rule 85 authorize legislators to claim a "per diem" allowance for each day spent in Madison on legislative business, not including Saturdays or Sundays unless the legislator is in Madison on one of those days attending a session of the legislature or a meeting of a standing committee as a member of the committee. Legislators may also be entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses incurred in attending committee meetings outside of Madison.

Legislators who do not establish a temporary residence in Madison may receive half of the per diem. Based on Section 20.916 (8), the Joint Committee on Employment Relations establishes the maximum amount of the allowance, according to the recommendation of the Director of the Office of State Employment Relations. Approval by the full legislature is not required. In January 2001, the committee set the current maximum per diem at $88 ($44 for legislators who do not establish temporary residence). The prior rate of $75 ($37.50) had been in effect since June 11, 1993. In addition to salary and per diem payments, the Speaker of the Assembly receives a stipend, which is currently $25 per month.

JUDICIAL BRANCH

Supreme Court Chief Justice	$142,389
Supreme Court Justice	134,389
Court of Appeals Judge	126,782
Circuit Court Judge	119,605

The judicial branch includes all justices of the supreme court and all judges of the court of appeals and the various circuit courts across the state. The salaries of all justices and judges are adjusted to the prevailing schedule in the state compensation plan whenever any member of the judicial branch takes office. The current schedule covers the period June 25, 2006, through March 31, 2007. Jurists will continue to receive the listed salaries until any justice or judge assumes office on or after April 1, 2007, at which time all salaries will be adjusted to the amounts specified for the period in the compensation plan.

District Attorneys. The compensation plan also sets the salaries of district attorneys, who are elected in each prosecutorial district but are paid by the state. The salaries vary depending upon the population of the prosecutorial unit, and currently range from a high of $122,470 in Milwaukee County to a low of $88,912 in prosecutorial units having populations below 35,000.

HOW SALARIES ARE DETERMINED

Salary Levels Set by Office of State Employment Relations. Sections 20.923 and 230.12, Wisconsin Statutes, created by Chapter 90, Laws of 1973, and amended by 1983 Wisconsin Act 27 and 2003 Wisconsin Act 33, provide the current procedure for setting salaries of elected state officials.

The process requires the Director of the Office of State Employment Relations (OSER) to submit proposed changes in the compensation plan for elected officials to the legislature’s Joint Committee on Employment Relations. The biennial compensation plan is typically submitted in June of odd-numbered years. If approved by the committee, the plan goes into effect. The committee may modify the director’s proposal if it chooses. These modifications may be disapproved by the governor within 10 calendar days, but a vote of six members of the committee can set aside the governor’s action. The current 2005-2007 compensation plan was adopted in July 2005. Previously, the administration of the compensation plan was performed by the Wisconsin Department of Employment Relations. 2003 Wisconsin Act 33 abolished the department and attached OSER (formerly named the Office of State Human Resources Management) to the Department of Administration.

Salary May Not Be Increased During Terms of Office. Article IV, Section 26 (2), Wisconsin Constitution, provides that “the compensation of a public officer may not be increased or diminished during the term of office.” Amendments have created two exceptions:

- An April 1992 constitutional amendment provides that all legislators, including those elected in special elections, will receive the same salary throughout the legislature’s biennial session. This allows holdover senators (those in the middle of a 4-year term) to receive an adjustment when the new legislature is inaugurated, so that their salary matches that of newly elected senators and representatives to the Assembly.
- Since being amended in 1967, the constitution has provided that the salaries of the entire judicial branch will be adjusted to reflect the salary schedule in effect when any new justice or judge takes office.
