Rep. Callahan Pledges to Fight for a Responsible Budget

[Madison, WI] – Last night, Governor Evers delivered his biennial State Budget Address. State Representative Calvin Callahan (R-Tomahawk) released the following statement in response:

“I was glad to see the governor finally embracing some conservative ideas, like eliminating the income tax on tips and providing middle-class tax relief. However, let’s not forget—he vetoed multiple Republican tax relief proposals last session. Thanks to Republican leadership in the legislature, we have already saved Wisconsin taxpayers over $31 billion through tax cuts.

“Unfortunately, last night was more of the same. Every two years, the governor delivers a budget full of liberal wish-list policies that is dead on arrival. Once again, his plan grows government, expands welfare, and recklessly taxes and spends your money. I look forward to passing a fiscally responsible budget that truly benefits Wisconsinites.

“In the coming days, the Joint Finance Committee will begin reviewing the budget from scratch. Republican legislators, including myself, will also hold listening sessions across the state to hear directly from constituents about their budget priorities. I will be releasing more details soon, but in the meantime, I encourage anyone in the 35th Assembly District to reach out to my office with their thoughts.”
