

2015-17 STATE BUDGET AT A GLANCE

Updated June 3, 2015

The budget proposal put forward by legislative Republicans sells out Wisconsin families to benefit the special interest groups behind Gov. Walker's presidential campaign. Because of presidential politics, Republicans refused federal funds to pay for health care programs in our state while giving hundreds of millions of dollars in tax breaks to the wealthy.

As a result, local public schools continue to face historic budget cuts and higher education is becoming less affordable for students. Republicans' tax breaks have hurt Wisconsin by giving too much of the benefit to wealthy and big corporations, causing a $2.2 billion budget deficit and forcing massive cuts to education, health care and our university system.

Democrats believe in putting Wisconsin families first and increasing economic opportunities by strengthening our schools, investing in infrastructure and creating quality jobs to move our state forward.

K-12 EDUCATION

- Fails to restore the historic funding cuts to public schools.

HIGHER EDUCATION

- Cuts $250 million from UW schools, allows for increased tuition and forces layoffs across the state.

HEALTH CARE

- Limits health care access and shifts $360 million in additional costs onto state taxpayers by rejecting federal funding for BadgerCare.
- Eliminates the IRIS program and makes dramatic changes to Wisconsin's long-term care programs leaving the elderly, individuals with disabilities and their families uncertain about future care options.
- Creates a new payment system for FQHCs (community health centers) which will result in a $10 million funding cut, potentially leading to clinic closures and cuts in services.
- Increases costs and adds additional barriers for BadgerCare recipients.
- Increases out-of-pocket expenses and raises health care costs for Wisconsin workers by $85 million.

ENVIRONMENT

- Cuts $30 million from Knowles-Nelson Stewardship, limiting public land conservation efforts.
- Shifts away from research-based conservation policies by eliminating 29 science and education positions at the Department of Natural Resources.

- Cuts funding for local county conservation staff and reduces grants to prevent runoff pollution.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

- Cuts $4 million from the successful municipal and county recycling grant program and eliminates funding for solid waste and recycling research.
- Prohibits Dane County from advising the DNR on area water quality management plans.
- Requires county treasurers to include information on tax bills about referenda and levy limit overrides passed in their communities.
