This week in Madison

This week was extremely busy meeting with constituents, members of the Governor's cabinet and individuals who are instrumental in the process of enacting important legislation

I had the opportunity, this week, to meet with numerous groups and here are a few:

Darren Haynes, A Grafton High School student who participating in the Young Apprenticeship Program.

Transportation Secretary Mark Gottlieb to discuss the Transportation budget for the 2015-2017 biennium.

Representatives from the Cooperative Network.

Ozaukee County District Attorney Adam Gerol, to discuss the disparity between Public Defenders and Assistant District Attorney's in Wisconsin.

Mike Paulaus, Kettle Lake Cooperative

It was a pleasure meeting with each of these individuals. My staff and I very much look forward to meeting constituents when they visit the state capitol

Meeting with (Darren Haynes), a student from Grafton High School who stopped by for the Youth Apprentice Day at the Capitol.

This week in the 60th District

I had the privilege of joining United States Representative Jim Sensenbrenner for a listening session on Monday at the Newburg Village Hall. Thank you to all who attended to voice their concerns about state and federal issues. It was nice to hear from you.

In addition, I had the opportunity to meet with constituents at the Multiple Sclerosis Rabbit hunt, and Waubeka Flag Day Auction. Did you know that the first Flag Day was held in Waubeka in 1885?

I met with representatives from Grafton High School to discuss disability rights and the school-to-life-coordinators program.

Lastly, I attended the Association of Builders Contractors Construction Skills Competition at the Washington County Fairgrounds.
