Rep. Krug Reaction to Proposed Budget from Governor Evers

(Madison) – After listening to Governor Evers’ speech and introduction of his budget, Rep. Scott Krug issued the following statement:

“Listening to Governor Evers’ speech and reviewing his proposed budget, it’s great that he is at least paying lip-service to tax cuts for Wisconsinites. We cannot forget that last session he repeatedly vetoed billions of dollars in tax relief for seniors and middle class families passed by the Legislature.

“Unlike Washington, DC, here in Wisconsin we cannot simply print money and run massive deficits. We live within our means as a state government, and we make sure our state budget is balanced and fiscally sound.

“The bottom line is that once again Governor Evers’ proposed budget spends too much money that we don’t have and moves our state in the wrong fiscal direction. I look forward to working with my colleagues in the Legislature to craft a budget that provides tax relief, returns the state surplus to taxpayers, and funds our priorities responsibly.”
