Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules on “Safer at Home” Order

Madison –Representative Treig E. Pronschinske (R-Mondovi) released the following statement relating to the Wisconsin Supreme Court’s ruling on the Wisconsin Legislature v. Palm case:

“On May 13th, our Wisconsin Supreme Court made its final ruling that the extension of the ‘Safer at Home’ order by Governor Evers’s Administration is in fact unconstitutional and unenforceable” Rep. Pronschinske stated.

“An unelected official does not have the power to enact his or her own laws without working with the Legislature to do so,” Rep. Pronschinske said.

“Our local communities have the ability to make the best decision for their region as they have the option to open on a county-by-county basis.” Rep. Pronschinske continued, “Our local businesses will continue to implement safe practices as they abide by recommendations made by others such as the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC).”

Rep. Pronschinske added, “As our local communities open, I encourage you to continue to follow safe practices of social distancing as you see your friends, neighbors, and loved ones. It is important to wash your hands, clean surfaces that you may have touched, and to self-quarantine when you have symptoms of COVID-19. There are local testing stations set up that you can be tested at if you believe you have any symptoms of the virus.”
