Notes: Prior to 1883, legislative sessions were annual, and senators were elected every two years. Currently, senators serve four-year terms in biennial legislative sessions.

The spellings of names in nineteenth-century and early twentieth-century historical records were not always consistent. The LRB has used its best judgment in determining the correct spellings of members' names, but alternate spellings may exist for some members.

Several senators were inaugurated but then resigned on or shortly after inauguration day. Because these senators served for only a day, they are not counted as having served for those sessions.

D–Democrat; F–Free Soil; I–Independent; IR–Independent Republican; L–Liberal; LR–Liberal Republican; P–Progressive; Pe–People's; PR–Progressive Republican; R–Republican; S–Socialist; SD–Social Democrat; U–Union; ULa–Union Labor; W–Whig.

Notes: Prior to 1883, legislative sessions were annual, and representatives were elected every year. Currently, representatives serve two-year terms in biennial legislative sessions.

The spellings of names in nineteenth-century and early twentieth-century historical records were not always consistent. The LRB has used its best judgment in determining the correct spellings of members' names, but alternate spellings may exist for some members.
