Helping to Support Our Families and Life

Madison – Today, State Senator Dan Knodl (R – Germantown) voted in favor of a number of Pro-Family and Pro-Life legislation introduced by State Senator Romaine Quinn (R – Cameron). These bills include providing clarity for the medical community by explicitly stating that lifesaving medical procedures are not to be categorized as abortions, grants to pregnancy resource centers, and creating a financial assistance grant program for adoption.

"The lives of mothers and their unborn children should be protected. This past year revealed that there needs to be clarity in the abortion law. This bill provides that much needed clarity to our medical community and gives them the freedom to do their job and save lives.

"Along with protecting the unborn, I have voted in favor of providing grants to pregnancy resource centers. These resource centers provide critical services such as: crisis pregnancy counseling, unwed mother support, abstinence programs, care of mothers and babies, and safe haven housing, providing help to those mothers who need it most.

"Adoption is a preferable alternative to abortion and our government should be providing assistance to those seeking adoption. I voted to fund an adoption grant program because I believe that these children deserve a loving family."
