GOVERNOR PICKS WINNERS AND LOSERS WITH UNEMPLOYMENT

I'm hearing from a lot of constituents who have recently been impacted by employer vaccine mandates. At the request of those constituents, I have reached out to the Department of Workforce Development to answer the question of whether these individuals can collect unemployment if they are fired for not getting the vaccine.

We haven't received any guidance from the department yet, but it seems the Governor has given his answer through the press. Those fired for not complying with vaccine mandates will not be able to collect unemployment while they look for another job. These are people that want to work and would continue to do so if they were allowed by their employers.

Make no mistake, Governor Evers is playing politics here. That is the only explanation for why those who want to work can't collect unemployment, and those who don't want to work can continue to collect until the federal government quits extending the end date for these unnecessary added benefits.

June 30th: Governor Evers Vetoes a bill that would have ended the extended unemployment benefits - allowing anyone who wishes, to remain unemployed

August 13th: Spokesperson for governor evers says he will veto a bill that would allow anyone fired for not taking the vaccine, the ability to collect unemployment

INDEPENDENT INSURANCE AGENTS OF WI LEGISLATOR OF THE YEAR

The role of an independent insurance agent is to work with consumers to find the best coverages they need to protect their assets and livelihoods.

Wisconsin's insurance marketplace remains healthy and competitive, giving us the 2nd lowest combined auto and homeowners rates in the country. This, in turn, helps Wisconsin customers get the protection they need at a cost that works for them.

I'm honored to be the Independent Insurance Agents of Wisconsin's Legislator of the Year!

ELECTION SUBPOENA UPDATE

As I mentioned last week, Rep. Brandtjen issued subpoenas for Brown and Milwaukee Counties in relation to the November, 2020 election.

Legislative Council opined that the subpoenas aren't officially valid unless the Speaker and Chief Clerk sign them. Speaker Vos is contemplating that decision.
