Erpenbach and Hesselbein Announce Listening Sessions

Madison – Senator Jon Erpenbach and Representative Dianne Hesselbein will be conducting listening sessions this Saturday.

“Listening sessions are a great opportunity to hear directly from constituents about their concerns. People contact our office every day but sitting in a room together for an hour is a different experience and very important to me as a Legislator,” said Representative Dianne Hesselbein.

“As we enter another state budget year I expect to hear concerns about funding for schools, roads, health care, small business development and state finances in general. As a member of the Joint Committee on Finance, I really like to hear concerns early in the process,” said Senator Jon Erpenbach.
