Governor Evers Makes More Empty Promises

Madison... Tonight, Governor Evers gave the annual State of the State address. Senator Cory Tomczyk (R-Mosinee) released the following statement regarding Governor Evers address:

“Tonight, for the 7th year in a row, we heard the Governor make promises he knows he can’t keep. Unfortunately, the people of Wisconsin are overtaxed. As a business owner who has no choice, but to balance the books, the Governor’s budget scares the hell out of me. This reckless spending needs to stop. The Governor has zero intention in helping the people of Wisconsin. His only priority is expanding the size of government.”

“Tonight, the Governor claimed he lowered taxes; it was the Republican Legislature who lowered the taxes for Wisconsinites, not the Governor. For example, just last session, the Governor vetoed tax cut after tax cut, even after he said he would sign one. He sticks his hand out to the people of Wisconsin to fund boondoggles while protecting his personal slush fund to dole out political favors.”

“If it wasn’t for the Republicans in the Legislature staunchly defending the State’s checkbook, the entire surplus would have been liquidated. Wisconsin needs a forward thinking, responsible leader, not a Governor relying our children and grandchildren to fix his mistakes.”

“Wisconsin deserves better. Wisconsin needs a new Governor.”
