Senator Pfaff Introduces Bill to Support Small Businesses

Madison, WI – Today, State Senator Brad Pfaff (D-Onalaska) and State Representative Robyn Vining (D-Wauwatosa) re-introduced a bill to create an online portal for Wisconsinites to access information related to starting, maintaining, and growing a small business. Among others, the online portal would feature information on economic development programs, bidding opportunities for small businesses to participate in state and local government contracts, courses of instruction, and networking opportunities. Senator Pfaff released the following statement on the legislation:

“Small businesses are the cornerstone of our communities. Wisconsin’s economy thrives when our Main Streets thrive.”

“I’m proud to introduce this legislation, which will give Wisconsin entrepreneurs the tools they need to start their business and contribute to our local economies. This bill reflects the diverse needs of Wisconsinites who wish to start a business, and will help our small businesses continue to innovate and evolve.”
